

SLAUGHTERRA

Press Text

We want to "Cry with you! Grow with you!": Slaughterra emotionalises and makes visible that psychological problems and pain can affect anyone and that these topics should be dealt with more openly. With metaphors and values from Japanese culture, the band enters into an exchange with its community about ubiquitous and personal emotions and experiences. We must suffer together to move forward - you are never alone!

Since its founding in 2012, the band has grown steadily and has completely transformed its musical completely changed their musical style compared to the beginnings. You can consider their current style as modern metalcore, which now relies entirely on German lyrics. The band cites Parkway Drive influences are Parkway Drive, Callejon, The Amity Affliction, Atreyu and In Flames.
